Bay St. Louis Unit
Construction Awaits Nod
By State Finance Group

Construction work on three school projects at Bay St. Louis one of which is a new 16-classroom elementary school is awaiting final contract approval by the Mississippi education finance commission.

An apparent low bid of $201,000 submitted by Brice Building Co. Inc., Birmingham, Ala., and New Orleans La. has been accepted by the Bay St. Louis city school board.

Brice's bid covered the three projects.

Included in the bids, in addition to the new elementary school, were a four-classroom addition to Valena C. Jones School, a Negro unit; and a lunchroom addition to Waveland Elementary School.

Waveland is a part of the Bay St. Louis separate school district.

A total of 13 general contractors submitted bids, 12 of whom bid on the combined projects.

J. D. McCulloch, supt. of city schools, commented he "hopes to start construction as soon as possible."

The apparent second low bid, $214,439 was made by Fred V. Rose Construction Co., Gulfport, Miss. and a lunchroom addition to Waveland Elementary School.

Mid South Construction Co. Baton Rouge, La., was third with a bid proposal of $220,000.

"This construction will relieve the crowded conditions that prevail in high school and grammar school units," McCulloch noted.

The elementary school will be constructed on Dunbar Avenue, he said. In addition to the 18 classrooms, it will contain an elementary library, administration office space, and a combination cafeteria-auditorium.

McCulloch said the new unit will be able to handle a 500-student enrollment load.

Plans for the building were drawn by Kuykendall and Prof. Architects and Engineers of Gulfport.

Construction will be of concrete block with brick exterior, combining steel framing and fiber decking with the built-up roof. The building will feature extensive window sections on the exterior.

If the contract and bid are approved by state finance commission, normally a work order for construction would be issued within a short period.

State approval of contracts are mandatory since $56,622 of state money has been appropriated for use in building the school.

OIL & GAS

In 1939, just twenty years ago, oil was discovered in Mississippi, in Yazoo County.

We had to dig a little deeper for oil and gas in Mississippi than most other places, but we found it, and already Mississippi ranks ninth in oil and seventh in gas production among the states, with 140 fields and 2,500 producing wells.

Though the industry is in its infancy in Mississippi, oil and gas have been a boon to thousands of small farmers and land owners, who have received millions of dollars for leases and in royalties. More than $1½ billion in private risk capital has been invested in Mississippi by wild-catters, prospectors and producers, and less than one billion dollars taken out. The annual revenue (gross income) is now approximately $250 million. In wages for 10,000 workers, in taxes, investments, and purchases, the oil and gas industry has enriched the state.

As one of the basic industries, which spawns many others, including the manufacture of chemicals and plastics, more than 2,000 products are now processed from oil and gas. Already South Mississippi has two oil refineries.

As our company consumes gas, serves oil drillers and supplies refineries with light and power, we constantly seek added industries to convert the magic of black gold into new wealth and an increasing prosperity. Naturally, we look with you into a more promising future as we salute the petroleum industry on its 100th anniversary.

There's nothing like a soda fountain right in your own home.

Ice cream sauces are the basis for delicious sundaes, sodas, shakes, banana splits and parfaits. Rich and satin smooth sauces are made with instant pudding mix, corn syrup and Pet Evaporated Milk.

Two full cups of home-made sauce cost about 30 cents, and because they need no cooking, only five minutes are required to prepare this soda fountain treat.

A variety of sauces may be made for your own old-fashioned ice cream parlor, but chocolate is sure to be a favorite with young and old.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE
1 package chocolate instant pudding
1/2 cup light or dark corn syrup
1/2 cup Pet Evaporated Milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix pudding and syrup until smooth. Gradually stir in Pet Evaporated Milk and vanilla. Let stand until thickened, about 10 minutes. Makes 2 cups.

Nicholas asserted that the so-called "penny increase" will raise the average tax on gasoline in this state to $93 a year per vehicle. Total motor fuel collections in the state will climb to an estimated $72 million a year, of which $24 million will go to the federal government.

"The constantly mounting tax burden on gasoline tends to obscure the fact that this is one product on which the national average consumer price has advanced no more than 6 percent over the past ten years, although official indexes show that retail prices generally have gone up 21 percent," Nicholas said.

"The only real inflation with regard to motor fuel costs has been the 55 percent increase in average tax rate that has taken place nationally since 1949."

SIXTY-TWO MILLION EGGS PRODUCED BY FLOCKS

Mississippi's laying flocks produced sixty-two million eggs during August, an increase of twelve million eggs over August, 1958. The increase is attributed to more layers plus an increased rate of laying.

QUIET REVOLUTION! ON DISPLAY FRIDAY! HOORAY! SMALL WONDER!

CORVAIR BY CHEVROLET! SMALL MIRACLE! THREE COMPACT CHEERS! FRIDAY!

THE REVOLUTIONARY Corvair

BY CHEVROLET

There's nothing like a new car—and no compact car like this de luxe Corvair 700.

Here's the car created to conquer a new field—Chevrolet's low-priced compact Corvair.

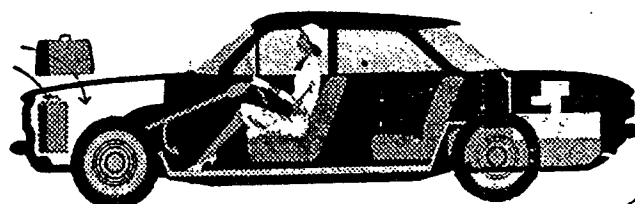

The product of nine years of research and development at the auto industry's most advanced facilities, it's America's first truly compact, economical car that retains the ride and 6-passenger comfort you're used to in a big one.

The key to this small miracle: America's first and only modern rear-mounted aluminum engine—a lightweight 6 that's so revolutionary it can be packaged with the transmission and drive gears as one compact unit.

By putting the engine in the rear, Chevrolet has made the floor practically flat, front and rear. There's plenty of foot room for everybody, including the passengers in the middle.

Shifting engine weight to the rear also makes for smoother, easier compact car handling and gives glued-to-the-road traction on ice, mud or snow. Corvair's size—some 5 inches lower, 2 1/2 feet shorter and 1,300 pounds lighter than conventional sedans—makes it a joy to lookee through busy streets, a pleasure to park (no need for power assist). Its revolutionary Turbo-Air 6 gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon of regular (a real magician on mileage). And, because the America's only car with an airplane-type horizontal engine! America's only car with independent suspension at all 4 wheels! America's only car with an air-cooled aluminum engine!

The engine's in the rear where it belongs in a compact car!

engine's air-cooled, you never have to fuss with antifreeze, you get quicker warmup with less wear on parts even on the coldest mornings (even heat for passengers comes quicker—almost instantly—from an airplane-type heater).

Yet, wonderfully practical as all this sounds, you'll find the most practical thing of all about this new Corvair is its remarkably low price. Your dealer's the man to see for all the short, sweet details. REVOLUTIONARY TURBO-AIR 6 Gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon, needs no antifreeze, provides quicker warmup with less wear on parts.

ONE-PACKAGE POWER TEAM Wraps rear engine, transmission and differential together into one compact lightweight unit. Takes less room, leaves you more.

STYLING—PURE AND SIMPLE Clean, uncluttered lines shape both 4-door models—the de luxe Corvair 700 and the standard Corvair. Each has its own distinctive trim, and you get more visibility area than in many full-sized cars.

FOLD-DOWN REAR SEAT Works easily, instantly, adding to Corvair's versatility by enlarging rear seat cargo space to 17.6 cu. ft.

FLAT FLOOR Corvair is America's only compact car with a practically flat floor, the only one with the kind of relaxing room that U.S. motorists are used to.

UNISTRUT BODY BY FISHER Does away with conventional frame, incorporating all structure into a rigid body-frame unit that gives you more inside room with less weight.

UNDER-HOOD LUGGAGE COMPARTMENT Trunk's up front (like an elephant's) where it's convenient for groceries, luggage.

4-WHEEL INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION There's no conventional axle—front or rear. Wheels, cushioned by coil springs, take bumps independently of each other, for smooth, road-hugging ride.

CONVENTION SPEAKERS

Speakers at the Eighth Annual Convention of the Mississippi Manufacturers Association, October 15-16, 1955 are (reading from lower left): Lambert H. Miller, General Counsel, National Association of Manufacturers, Washington, D. C.; State Senator Earl Evans, Canton, Mississippi; U. S. Congressman Phillip M. Landrum, Jasper, Georgia; Mississippi Governor-Elect Ross R. Barnett, Jackson, Mississippi; Thurman Sensing, Executive Vice President, Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tennessee; D. J. Gray, Vice President and General Manager, Masonite Corporation, Laurel, Mississippi; John A. Osberg, MMA President, Tupelo, Mississippi; and Charles H. Fulghum (not pictured) Executive Vice President, Mississippi Manufacturers Association.

The two day annual meeting of the manufacturers' group will be attended by more than five hundred industrialists and businessmen from Mississippi and other southern states. Members of the Mississippi Legislature and Congressional Delegation have also been invited.

The Mississippi Manufacturers Association, organized in 1951, represents more than 600 manufacturing plants in Mississippi. Total employment in these plants exceeds 80,000.

Wool Growers' Referendum

Chairman F. H. Smith of the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee today urged all wool growers to cast a ballot in the referendum referendum on the lamb and wool marketing development program to insure the widest possible representative vote.

The outcome of the referendum to determine whether or not deductions will continue to be made from payments under the wool incentive program should reflect the attitude of the many types of producers affected throughout the Nation, the chairman said. While the primary basis for approval will be the volume of production represented in the referendum, consideration will also be given to the numbers of producers voting as an indication of representative producer approval or disapproval.

To prompt as large a turnout as possible, the entire month of September has been set as the voting period in the referendum. A ballot has been mailed to each known producer in Hancock County, but any producer not receiving a ballot can get one at the ASC county office. To further encourage a large total vote, the ballots may be returned by mail to the county office.

In Hancock County about 70 producers are eligible to vote in the referendum. The National total is around 300,000 producers.

The deductions from payments being voted on in the referendum make up a fund used by the American Sheep Producers Council, a producer organization, in carrying out a program of advertising, promotion, and related activities on lamb and wool under an agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture. The agreement will be continued for three years if approved in the referendum. Deductions have been made at these rates since 1955.

U. S. Savings Bonds Attractive To Investors And Small Savers

Never before have United States Savings Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike, Mr. Andy J. Becker, chairman of the Hancock County Savings Bonds Committee, said today in commenting on the one-half percent increase in interest rates on old and new Series E and H Savings Bonds.

"Forty million people automatically benefit from the recent legislation passed by Congress," Mr. Becker said, "because that many hold outstanding bonds in the amount of $42.6 billion. For the first time, the hike in rates applies to old Series E and H Savings Bonds, as well as those being bought currently. So, it will be to the advantage of most bond owners to hold onto their old bonds, thus automatically receiving the benefit of the increase."

The new law does two things: (1) it provides that all Savings Bonds bought on and after June 1 draw 3 1/2 percent interest when held to maturity, and (2) it increases by at least one half of one percent the interest return on all outstanding E and H bonds regardless of their age, for the period from June 1, 1955, to their maturity. In addition, the Treasury has promised a 10-year extension privilege for all E bonds, both old and new.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that every person who owns an E and H bond benefits from the new rate, without having to do anything about it," Mr. Becker continued. "I would therefore encourage the public to do two things: keep holding their old bonds, and keep on buying the new ones. This is the finest Savings Bonds package ever offered."

Attending the fall laymen's Rally at Lucedale, September 21, from Main Street Methodist Church were the pastor, Reverend A. M. Ellison, Roy Wehre, John Miller, Max Stone, David and James C. McDonald.

WAYS TO HELP HEART DISEASE VICTIMS

Latest rehabilitation and job placement methods will be discussed by Travis McCharen of Jackson, Director of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation; W. T. Hanks of Jackson, chief of research and statistics, Mississippi Employment and Security Commission; and S. W. McLelland of Atlanta, Associate regional representative, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation which is also helping underwrite costs.

The emotional and social factors which may affect the heart patient will be covered by Dr. L. C. Hanes, associate professor of psychiatry at the University Medical Center; Mrs. Abbie McCormick of Jackson, medical social consultant, Department of Public Welfare; and Mrs. Zona Jelks, State Board of Health advisory nurse.

How community and professional groups help the heart patient remain a useful member of the community will be reported by Dr. T. D. Labecki of the Heart Disease Control Unit, Jackson; Marvin Miller of New York, American Heart Association consultant; and Dr. J. E. Acker of Knoxville, Tenn.

A dinner will climax the first day's program. Featured speaker will be Dr. Amasa B. Ford, director of rehabilitation teaching at Western Reserve University, J. O. Emmenich of McComb, heart association president will preside.

SUBCLOVER GROWS AND RESEEDS WELL IN MISSISSIPPI TESTS

State College, Miss. Several years of testing subclover at two Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station locations indicate this legume is well adapted to the alluvial sections of the state.

Robert E. Coats and Dr. Corwin M. Johnson have recently reported results of their tests at the Brown Loam Branch Station and at State College. These studies indicate that subclover should be planted between September 1 and October 15. Soils and fertilizer requirements are about the same as for white clover.

A number of varieties were tested and in some cases there was little difference in earliness or yield. However, the varieties Mr. Barker and Bacchus Marsh have better disease resistance and for this reason are considered better suited to Mississippi conditions.

Because subclover reseeds well it should be easier to maintain a stand over a period of years than other pasture grasses. Ten years after planting, the Mt. Barker variety is still producing an observational area at the Brown Loam Experiment Station near Raymond.

of the many bays and bayous that empty into the Gulf. North Bayou on Cat Island is one of the favorite spots for speckled trout fishing. Here the proper equipment is a spinning reel and a lure or live bait. Most often, the fishing is done from a skiff with an outboard motor to allow easy access to the upper reaches of these bayous where the big "specks" like to lie in the cool waters.

A cast into a quiet pool, a flash of white and the "speck" rises to the lure brings many minutes of thrilling sport landing the fighting trout. Many fishermen believe that the speckled trout has more fight per ounce than any other fish! Speckled trout, often called sea trout or spotted weakfish, are particularly tasty, and the deep freeze lockers of many residents are filled with this delicious variety.

SNAPPER BANK
Another exciting method of catching "specks" is to wade out into the surf of the white beaches, casting offshore in the shallow water. Red fish can often be caught at the same time in this way.

During the past few months, the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce has been at work developing a snapper bank about four miles south of Dog Keys Pass, 16 miles south of the mainland. Here at the site of an old wreck, tons of material has been deposited in the form of old automobile tires, broken concrete, old refrigerators, old stoves and broken tile. This "junk" offers surfaces for the development of food supplies for the red snappers, and as time progresses and this food supply increases, additional catches can be anticipated. Already several red snappers have been brought in from the deep waters of this artificial snapper bank.

Inland, names like Rotten Bayou, Tchoutacabouffa River, Wolf River and Bayou La Croix bring to mind tree lined streams teeming with green trout and red fish, perch and bream. Fall months are best for this bayou fishing, and accommodations, skiffs, bait and equipment can be obtained from the many modern fishing camps that line the waterways.—N. O. Times-Picayune, Sept. 17, 1959.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES
By HOWARD EMMONS, County Agent
SWEETPOTATO HARVESTING
Here are some reminders for getting the sweetpotato crop in storage in the best possible condition.

First, make sure that you get your crop dug and in storage before the potatoes can be damaged by cold weather—temperatures below 50 degrees F. damage sweetpotatoes.

Dig the potatoes with a minimum of damage. Use a large turning plow with coulters. Set it off-center on the left side of the row to turn all hills of potatoes out on the same side. This speeds up the picking up and crating.

Pick up the potatoes carefully to avoid skinning. Do some field grading. Do not mix damaged and sound potatoes.

Haul sweetpotatoes into storage as soon as possible after digging to avoid sun scald.

SCREW-WORMS

Screw-worms have been found in Warren and Washington counties. And danger of their spread to other parts of the state exists. This danger will exist until the screw-worms are brought under control or until cold weather kills them out.

The larvae of the screw-worm fly feed in wounds of livestock and cause serious injury to death. Federal and state officials request that livestock owners be on the alert for screw-worms and report suspected cases to the county agent, livestock inspectors or veterinarians.

If wounds must be treated without delay, they ask that some of the worms be kept in alcohol, or even water and turned over to them. When worms are positively identified, the infected herd is sprayed by state or federal crews without charge.

Animals on adjacent farms are inspected and if necessary treated to protect them from infestation. The spray protects animals for at least two weeks and kills flies and other parasites.

FIRE SAFETY

If a fire starts: Get everyone out of and away from the building that is burning. Call for help from nearest telephone—or make sure someone goes for help. Try to keep fire from spreading to other buildings. Never, for any reason, go back into a building—even the smallest fire can give off deadly smoke and fire gases.

DAIRY CATTLE SHOWING IS FEATURE ATTRACTION

Dairy cattle showing will occupy an important place in this year's Mississippi State Fair to be held in Jackson, October 12-17. The dairy cattle exhibit will consist mainly of Guernsey, Holstein, and Jersey Stock. There will be two divisions of the show, one for adults or breeders and the other for juniors. The Junior Dairy Show is expected to be a feature attraction of the dairy cattle exhibit of the fair again this year. Many 4-H and FFA members from every section of the state will have animals on display. The Mississippi State Fair is the showman's show, and the dairy cattle exhibit is a highlight of the fair.

The Big Circus To Show At Star Theatre Sun. - Mon. - Tuesday

Hugo Zechlin, 29-year-old "big man cannonball" from the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus, is one of the numerous stars of the big top signed by producer Allen for his production of "The Big Circus" for Allied Artists, showing at the Star Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

A glittering array of seven stars—Victor Mature, Red Buttons, Rhonda Fleming, Kathryn Grant, Vincent Price, Peter Lorre, David Nelson and Gilbert Roland—play principal roles.

Zechlin, one of 22 Zechlins who since 1922 have made a living by shooting themselves out of cannons, drove to Hollywood from his home in Sarasota, Florida, with his own 27-foot silver cannon mounted on a silver five-ton silver truck.

Also, from the Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus, Allen brought the Flying Alexanders, one of the top trapeze acts playing today, Fay Alexander was a protegee of the great Alfredo Cordona and is the only aerialist now performing the triple somersault.

From Mexico's Atlatle Circus came Gene Mendez, "World's Greatest Wire-Walker," who always works without a net.

The Ronnie Lewis Trio (Lewis and two sisters, Lynn and Carol Brent), high ladder equilibrists, came from Polack Bros. Circus.

Dick Walker and his lion act came from Jangleland, Thousand Oaks, California, which also supplied the elephants, tigers and camels.

Steve Allen plays himself.

Joseph M. Nedman directed, from the screenplay by Allen, Charles Bennett and Irving Wallace.

"The Bat" Showing At The Star Theatre This Sunday And Monday

"The Bat" famous stage hit by Mary Robert Rinehart and Avery Hopwood, granddaddy of all the mystery thrillers of stage and screen, has been brought to the screen by Producer C. J. Tevlin for Allied Artists.

It will show Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theatre as a dramatic blockbuster, exciting and thrilling as ever, expert and funny and above all providing a superlative evening's entertainment for young and old alike.

Two of Hollywood's finest players, Vincent Price and Agnes Moorehead, star in "The Bat," and both are in their peak histrionic element as they enact their roles in this modernized version of the perfectly contrived chiller-diller.

"The Bat" has a first-rate plot and the finest collection of winking lights, eerie sounds, skulking figures, faces, at the windows and slowly opening doors to be found in any film. It also has a hidden room with a mystery panel, with an embezzled million in cash, concealed there.

Miss Moorehead, playing a writer of mystery novels, much like Mrs. Rinehart herself, leaves a summer home in the East and goes there with her faithful companion, Lizzie, a quaint character hilariously portrayed by Lenita Lane. Miss Moorehead early discovers that strange happenings are taking place in the huge old Victorian mansion. The servants are all scared away, the butler-chau-feur, John Sutton, seems almost too good for the job, the local doctor, Vincent Price, also appears to be a naive and somewhat suspicious individual, and the head detective of the town, strongly played by Gavin Gordon, has himself a hectic time trying to solve the baffling mystery of what's going on, and to catch a master criminal known only as The Bat, because he kills in deadly fashion, slitting the jugular veins of his victims with talon-like steel claws, much like a killer bat.
